The Mary Jane Cachelin Library is committed to operating in furtherance of its tax-exempt purposes and in compliance with all applicable laws, rules and regulations, including those concerning accounting and auditing, and prohibits fraudulent practices by any of its board members, officers, employees, or volunteers. This policy applies to any matter which is related to The Mary Jane Cachelin Library's business and does not relate to private acts of an individual not connected to the business of The Mary Jane Cachelin.

If an employee has a reasonable belief that an employee or Mary Jane Cachelin Library has engaged in any action that violates any applicable law, or regulation, including those concerning accounting and auditing, or constitutes a fraudulent practice, the employee is expected to immediately report such information to the librarian. If the employee does not feel comfortable reporting the information to the librarian, he or she is expected to report the information to the university president.

All reports will be followed up promptly, and an investigation conducted. In conducting its investigations, Mary Jane Cachelin Library will strive to keep the identity of the complaining individual as confidential as possible, while conducting an adequate review and investigation.
